

Contents

FOREWORD

Hilton Als	9
------------	---

INTRODUCTION

Of Sky and Mind / Jarrett Earnest	15
Art History, Poetry, Philosophy, Painting (1988) / Jesse Murry	29

I. CRITICISM

David Smith (1980)	41
Reverend Howard Finster: Man of Vision (1980)	44
Remarks on Art Criticism (1980)	54
Expressionism: 1980 (1980)	57
Philip Wofford's Evocative Abstraction (1980)	67
William Conlon's 'The Blues Brothers: Sam and Dave' (1981)	76
Hans Hofmann's Use of Nature as Aesthetic Norm (1981)	82
Quintet: The Romance of Order and Tension in Five Painting by Elizabeth Murray (1981)	93
Reflections on Howard Hodgkin's Theater of Memory (1981)	101
Paul Burlin: The Late Paintings (1981)	109
Color: Four Painters—Max Gimblett, Joseph Marioni, Phil Sims, Thornton Willis (1982)	114
The Three Levels of Content: An Intuitive Approach to Teaching How Paintings Mean (1984)	124
Painting Is a Supreme Fiction: Why I Read Wallace Stevens (c. 1986)	137

PLATES

II. NOTEBOOKS

Windows, Walls, and Dreams (c. 1988–89)	163
Coming to Terms (c. 1990)	231

III. POETRY

From Notes on Landscape (1987)	255
A Page from The Book of Light—I (1988)	257
A Page from The Book of Light—II (1988)	259
A Page from The Book of Light—III (1988)	260
FORESPEECH from The Book of Night (1988)	262
A Page from The Book of Night—I (1988)	263
A Fragment from The Book of Night—I (1988)	265
A Fragment from The Book of Night—II (1988)	266
A response to Thomas the Obscure for The Book of Night (1988)	267
Traces from The Book of Night (1988)	269
Stance (c. 1991–92)	270
Where the spirit anoints itself in this light (c. 1991–92)	271
Onslaught of sorrow (c. 1991–92)	272
Exile or wanderer (c. 1991–92)	273
Voice & Circumstance (c. 1991–92)	274
Say next to holiness is the will to live (c. 1991–92)	276
In the swiftly approaching darkness (c. 1991–92)	277
At dusk it is always at dusk—how even death (c. 1991–92)	278
At dusk it is always at dusk—even now (c. 1991–92)	279
Shades Shadows Voids (c. 1991–92)	280
One abided the dark too long (c. 1991–92)	281
Aphorisms (1993)	283

BIOGRAPHIES

304

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

306